To

His Highness the Maharaja

Sri Krishna Rajendra Wadeyar Bahadur,

G.C.S.I.,

MAHARAJA OF MYSORE,

THE MEMORIAL OF MR. F. R. SELL, M.A. (OXON.), PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH IN THE CENTRAL COLLEGE, BANGALORE.

May it please Your Highness to peruse and consider this memorial setting forth the details of the hard case in which Your Highness' memorialist finds himself in the matter of furlough rules.

2. When in July, 1910, he ascertained that a special Government Order was necessary in the case of each officer who desired to enjoy the benefit of the furlough rules as set forth in Chapter XIV of the Mysore Service Regulations, he approached the late Mr. Weir, Inspector-General of Education, and sent in to Your Highness' Government a request backed by Mr. Weir's strong recommendation to grant him the privilege of the furlough rules of Chapter XIV, which all the European officers of the Educational Service were enjoying at the time when he was appointed to it in October, 1904. Your Highness' memorialist was appointed to the Educational Service under the régime of the late Dewan Sir P. N. Krishnamurthi, K.C.I.E., on the strong recommendation of Mr. Cook, then Principal of the Central College, and of Dr. Duncan, a former Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

3. Mr. Weir anticipated a favourable reply, as the European officers senior to Your Highness' memorialist had been granted the favour, and the officers appointed since he joined the service in 1904, namely Messrs. McCombe and Metcalfe had been granted the furlough rules of the Madras Educational Service or others similar to them.

4. Your Highness' Government replied to Mr. Weir's request by Government Order, $\frac{\text{No. 8145-6}}{\text{Edn. 57-10-2}}$, dated April 1, 1911, that they did not see sufficient reason to sanction the recommendation. Since the two officers junior to Your Highness' memorialist in length of service appointed in 1908 enjoy furlough rules similar to those of Chapter XIV (the case of Mr. Usher is set aside, because he is under a special agreement for a term of five years), this reply leaves him in the peculiar position of being the one European officer of the Mysore Educational Service, who is under the older rules as set forth in Chapter XIII of the Mysore Service Regulations.

5. These rules grant Your Highness' memorialist a maximum furlough of two years in a service of thirty; the first year after ten years' and the second after eighteen years' service. To a married man this often means long separation from his wife and family. There are also greater possibilities of a break-down in health. One advantage to an educational officer of furlough under the rules of Chapter XIV is that in his own university he can get into touch with the best scholarship of the day and with the constantly improving methods of teaching, and thus come back to his work fresh and vigorous in mind and body.

Edn. 14-15 3 11

6. The European officers, Messrs. Cook, Weir, Tait and Denham, in the Educational Service when your Highness' memorialist joined it, were originally under the rules of furlough as set forth in Chapter XIII. After Chapter XIV was introduced into the Service Regulations, all of these officers were graciously given the benefit of it by special Government Orders.

7. Your Highness' memorialist respectfully begs Your Highness graciously to grant him the same favour as was granted to them, and, in effect, has also been granted to officers who are considerably his juniors in length of service.

For which act of grace Your Highness' memorialist will for ever be grateful.
